

LIVE STREAMING APP

I have recently worked on the Live Streaming application which uses WebRTC for video streaming, SocketIO for chat and SpringBoot REST Api for Backend communication. The application follows a mix of Clean Architecture and MVVM as application architecture. I made sure to follow SOLID principle while developing the application. Below is a high-level system design diagram of the same application.

